Key Challenges and Project Constraints

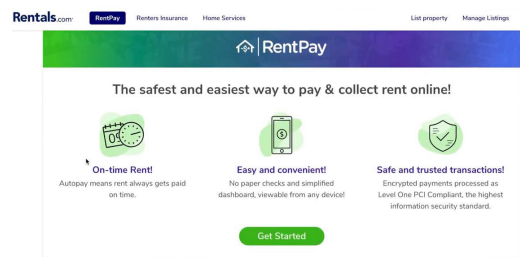

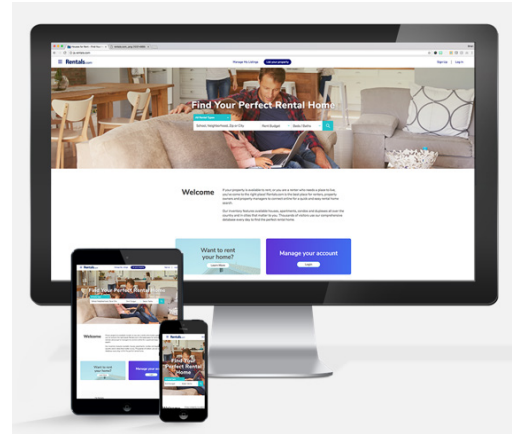

With a large network of sites, RentPath needed to simplify their search engine by migrating Rentals.com (part of their large network of sites) to a Single Page Application (SPA) within less than 5 months. This SPA was to include new designs, features, and SEO enhancements to support higher lead conversions and an optimal user interface. A new RentPay feature was to be installed so as to allow users to make their payments online.

The Solution

Using new designs from RentPath, Charter Global updated their existing framework for all of the websites housed by rentals.com. By supplying prototypes along the process on a weekly basis, RentPath was able to track the progress. New display properties including Google Maps, filter and sort capabilities, and meta information enhanced the user interface and overall site performance. The RentPay feature proved hugely successful, allowing renters to make payments from the comfort of their own home.

Features

- New Design: By redesigning the site and migrating it to a more common technology platform, more features were added to help renters find a place to live.
- Integrating Map and Search Filters: Modernized search functions for users to narrow their results with specific filters, such as radius, schools, and square footage.
- Enhanced Advertising: Leads have increased, with traffic more than doubling in size, from -30 to +40% Year Over Year (YOY) post production.
- Improved User Experience: Bounce rate decreased by 33%, with user engagement time 25% longer and users viewing 46% more pages.
- Search Engine Optimized: The site was optimized using best practices including the addition of meta tags, adding schema.xml, sitemap.xml, and Google Tag Manager for analytics.
